Stephan Van Dam, AIGA is an award-winning cartographer, graphic designer, and information architect. He is the president, principal and creative director of New York-based VanDam Publishing. Twenty-seven of his maps are in the MoMA Collection. The universal power of maps has been his guiding passion for the past 25 years and fuels his desire to tell stories and construct new realities through maps in all media. He's has mapped over 85 world cities, and holds several patents in the field of paper engineering and origami map folding. His work has been honored by the Industrial Design Society of America (IDSA), the American Institute of Graphic Arts (AIGA), the editors of ID magazine and has been featured on national television and been sighted in numerous feature films. --This text refers to an alternate Map edition.

As a native Washingtonian, I would recommend this map to any visitor to the nation's capital It is an excellent way to acquaint children with George Washington before a trip to DC . I used it to begin a discussion with my children about all they would see and to help them understand some of the history of the city. And for me, it is a reminder of how lucky I am to be born in such a fascinating place.
