Jessie Richards grew up across 10 countries in Europe, South America, and Asia, where her parents were teachers and social workers. She has compiled, edited, or authored a variety of spiritual and personal growth-themed publications and articles during her career as a writer, editor, and project manager for various publishing houses as well as nonprofit organizations. She now resides in New York City, and some of her favorite things to do are read old classics and go for long walks.

It is attractive, office appropriate, and can be reused for future years to help me meet my personal goals of creating less trash, but so far the mottos are less than inspiring.
