Tasmanian Summer: A Photographer's Travels - Book 1 (Travel Story Showcase Visual Travel Guides) (Volume 1)

Synopsis

If you love to travel, but can't always find the time or money to do so, this is a chance for you to explore - from the comfort of your armchair. The Visual Travel Guide Series is all about beautiful photos - about letting you immerse yourself in a location, so that you feel like you are right there, seeing, hearing, feeling and tasting everything about that place. Each book will look at one location - be that a city, a region, a state, even a country, presenting a feast of colour and detail that transports you. Each book also provides a resources list, so that you can go and explore the destination further, online, any time you wish. I hope that you are inspired by these books, so much so that you want to go and explore each place in person, to enjoy them as much as I have, in creating these visual guides for you!

Kim Lambert is a speaker, author, photographer, business woman and entrepreneur, with a very diverse background. She writes photography books and cookbooks for fun (as a bit of a change from business books) and also writes fiction under a couple of pen names (she's not telling!). She helps others write and publish their books (regardless of topic!) through her business, Dreamstone Publishing. She has written more than 20 books to date, with more being produced all the time. You can see some of her books on the following pages. (Look out for more books in the Visual Travel Guide series, coming soon) She lives near Canberra, Australia, and travels as often as possible, always with a camera in her hand. All of the pictures in this book (except the portraits of her) are her work, from the summer of 2016. If you are interested in obtaining a print of, or licensing the use of, any of these images, or would like to see more of her work, please contact her on info@dreamstonepublishing.com She is also available for interviews, or articles through the same contact.
